Some weeks ago we were recommending spraying tomatoes with either Dyrene, Maneb, Zineb, Bravo or Captan. It's important to point out that Maneb or Zineb should not be sprayed within 5 days of harvest. This simply means once tomatoes are in production's, you'll need to switch to one of the other materials if you've been using either Zineb or Maneb. Captan may be the easiest one to purchase. Apply weekly throughout the season.

While Sevin is an excellent insecticide, continued use can cause a build-up of aphids or spider mites. For control of beetles on beans you may want to altenate spraying with 25% Diazinon.

It's time to plan a grub treatment on cattle. Young cattle appear to be more susceptible to grub injury than older cattle. In some herds we find heavy infestations of adult cattle. Your experience is your best guide.

Do this job with a spray, pour-on or spot-on between August 1 and no later than November 1.

It's also a good time to worm, vaccinate or care for other management tasks.

We've seen some problem crops in recent days that appear to be nutritional. A tissue analysis is the best way of making sure which plant food is missing. Samples have to be sent out-of-state and there is a fee.

Information on how to collect a sample is available from this office.

On the Forage Tour about 10 days ago, I was impressed with a new variety of Orchard Grass. At least it was new to me -- first time that I had seen it grow. It's called Pennmeade and was growing beside 10 other varieties. In the first cutting they got 1.5 tons per acre. Virginia 70 was just under the Penn variety. Some of the varieties produced less than a half-ton per acre.

Some of the problems with orchard grass has been its susceptibility to disease. We'll watch Pennmeade with interest.

bringing up baby.

By Mrs. Dan Gerber

Never guess what food is good for a baby . . . or what amount should be served. Always ask your doctor or health professionals at a clinic and follow the advice carefully.

During the first year, it's important that a baby experience and enjoy a wide range of foods, in addition to milk or formula. This is a gradual process, following a broad pattern that should eventually include daily servings of foods from each of the four Basic Food Groups. These are Milk, Meat, Vegetable-Fruit, and Bread-Cereal.

With the convenient line of Gerber baby foods, you can select menus from all these groups. The wide variety will help your baby form lifetime good eating habits.

FOR A FINE FENCE

An increasing number of people are finding that money and maintenance worries need not be barriers to building an attractive, inexpensive fence.

Wood fencing adds value to your home and privacy to your yard. You can build it yourself or have someone do it for you, have one that's traditional or contemporary in style, high or low, open or solid, vertical or horizontal, and running across flat or hilly terrain.

To make maintenance simple, your fence should be built with Wolmanized® lumber or Outdoor® wood. These pressure-treated woods have special preservative chemicals forced deep into their cells. This provides lifetime protection against decay and termites, outlasting cypress and redwood and usually at a much lower cost.

You can paint or stain it easily, or let it weather to its natural gray, thereby "lumberscaping" your land with a beautiful, natural material.

When buying wood for use out-of-doors, look for the Wolmanized or Outdoor name on each piece. That way you'll be sure your project will last.

Wolmanized lumber and Outdoor wood are produced by Koppers Company and its licensees. For information on building your own fence, call toll free 800-245-2708. In Pennsylvania call collect 412-227-2441.
